Luján de Cuyo - Mendoza

VINEYARD

Luján de Cuyo, Mendoza. Traditional and well-known wine-growing region in Mendoza. Situated in high elevation location, 3251 to 3467 feet elevation. Semi-desert climate

SOIL

Low-nutrient gravelly soils provide ideal conditions for producing high quality grapes.

GROWING SEASON

This season presented several challenges due to complex weather conditions. A cool spring, with lower than average temperatures and late frosts affected the chardonnay yields. Followed by a heatwaves during mid-summer and rains towards the end of summer resulted in a natural thinning of the grapes. Harvest started earlier than usual in some locations. Yield is of 4.0 tons per acre.

AGING & BOTTLING

Aging for 17 months in new French oak (25%) and new American oak (5%) in combination with second use oak (70%). Bottled in December 2015. Unfined and unfiltered.

TASTING NOTES

Deep and intense red with dark violet hues, has a powerful aromatic expression: black and red fruit like plum and blackberry, compliments the spicy notes, elegantly. With good structure in mouth and round tannins, lead to a long and persistent finish.
